

Parenting in Practice second edition

The popular resource from The John Berne School

The extremely popular Parenting in Practice is back in a revised and updated second edition. This simple, straight-forward self-help book for parents offers strategies based on common-sense principles of parenting, and now includes an additional chapter with even more practical information for parents.

Parenting in Practice can be used to build positive partnerships with parents by:

- 1 Staff in close contact with parents.
- 2 Distribution to a targeted group of parents.
- 3 Incorporating it into the school's enrolment package.
- 4 Accompanying an existing parenting program.

The authors also offer a 2½ hour Parent's Forum to accompany distribution of the book.

“This is an impressive book...and a highly recommended resource for all parents.”

Ian Dalton
*Executive Director
Australian Parents Council*
